

RADIO LESSONS FOR MPUMALANGA LEARNERS

Old Mutual partners with Mpumalanga Department of Education to deliver free lessons on air

Johannesburg, 3 April 2020 – To help minimise the disruptive impact of Covid-19 on education, Old Mutual has partnered with the Mpumalanga Department of Education to roll out free radio lessons for learners in Grades 1 to 12. The initiative will benefit about a million learners and 33,000 teachers who are at home following the declaration of the National State of Disaster by the President of the Republic, Mr. Cyril Ramaphosa.

Learners can access the radio lessons from home by tuning into local and community radio stations across Mpumalanga. As interactive as a chat show, the on air classroom allows learners to call in, email or WhatsApp the presenter with their questions or comments.

“We believe this new initiative will impact learners’ performance positively and help drive the developmental agenda of the nation,” says Director of Corporate Affairs and Responsible Business at Old Mutual, Maserame Mouyeme.

“We encourage the learners, teachers, and parents of Mpumalanga to make good use of this opportunity to continue the learning process and avoid falling behind. Supporting education initiatives has been an Old Mutual priority since its launch 175 years ago and today, education is the anchor of our R50 million Covid-19 relief efforts.

“We hope this partnership with the Mpumalanga Department of Education will inspire and stimulate our learners and help keep them on the path to success. We are also very grateful to the radio stations for their enthusiasm and support for this initiative.”
